SELECTIVE SERVICE IN REVERSE

The process of returning veterans to civilian life is an infinitely more complicated procedure than calling men out for military service. The office mechanics alone, involved in the official discharge of the millions now in uniform, are staggering. Major General Lewis S. Hershey, Selective Service director, has estimated that if 1,000 men are discharged every hour, it will take ten months to demobilize 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 men.

Not only must these men be fitted into civilian economy, but as honorably discharged veterans they are endowed with new and extraordinary rights and privileges resulting from military service. They are not the untried civilians they were before they were mustered into bootcamp. They have a new status and a right to know what it involves.

A new 60-page booklet, issued by the Veterans' Administration, lists 56 major benefits to which veterans of this war are entitled. Further, it discusses for the benefit of discharged service men and women the subjects of re-employment, exemption from property taxes, State farm and home purchase programs, unemployment insurance, education, pensions and hospitalization. Additional benefits are provided in the G. I. Bill of Rights recently enacted by Congress.

The booklets are being distributed to committees being organized in virtually all communities to help veterans make the readjustment to civilian life.

When Selective Service goes into reverse, the responsibility resting on such local committees will be as great as that imposed upon draft boards.

"SEE THE WORLD"

Post-war airplane fares low enough to enable Mr. Average Man to "see the world" have passed from a "pipe dream" to a probability with the proposal of one airline company to cut its South American rates by two-thirds.

From Los Angeles to Rio de Janeiro the cost would be $225 per passenger, and from Los Angeles to Buenos Aires, $227. If these rates actually go into effect it looks like post-war air travel is in for a real boom.

Such a boom, however, does not mean that other forms of transportation will be little used. On the contrary, they too will likely thrive. Many people will still prefer to travel by steamer and, of course, the great bulk of the freight will still move by this means.

The same thing applies to land transport. There is little danger that the airplane will displace the family car or other automotive carriers. The intimate view of the country afforded by automobile or bus travel is something that cannot be attained in any other way. And in the movement of freight, trucks have long proved the most flexible means of transportation combining the capacity to handle substantial tonnage with the ability to deliver the goods speedily. The fact that in California commercial trucks handle twice as much intrastate freight as all other types of carriers combined speaks for itself.

Because war travel restrictions have kept most civilians pinned close to home, Mr. and Mrs. America have undoubtedly become travel minded. To some persons, this means "flying down to Rio." To others, it is a leisurely jaunt around the country in a new car.

Whichever it be, Americans are really "going places" after victory.

CHRISTMAS OVERSEAS MAILING

Because of the war, we have a sort of "Christmas in June" situation—or more precisely, Christmas in September and October. This is just another way of saying that it is high time to get into the Santa Claus spirit and do your Christmas shopping for the boys and girls who are overseas.

Gifts should be mailed between September 15 and October 15 if you want to be sure they arrive by December 25. You are urged by the Postoffice department to use great care in addressing parcels. Print clearly and be sure the address is complete. The words "Christmas parcel" should be marked plainly on the outside.

Parcels must not exceed five pounds nor be more than 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined. Intoxicants, inflammable materials and perishable goods are forbidden since they might damage other mail. One parcel a week to the same addressee is the limit.

So, even though it is still early fall, get into the swing of Christmas. Shop and mail early.

MODERN MOOD

PRODIGAL IN surface detail but thrifty in actual material used, the sheer black crepe model worn by CBS actress Charlotte ("Romance of Helen Trent") Manson reveals the sculptured trend in modern designing. An inset, appliqued yoke enriches the smooth shoulder line, and the draped skirt gives figure-flattering interest. The dress is a jewel to set off accessories of color or cool white for every town occasion.

Ever Try a Muffin Ring?

By Frances Lee Barton

IF you've never tried a muffin ring, the rules below are just the thing to give the family sparkling eyes and make guests gasp from sheer surprise.

Yes! It's unusual. It's tasty. It's healthful. And it's easy to prepare. What more can you ask for in a recipe?

Cheese Muffin Ring

1½ cups sifted cake flour; 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder; ½ teaspon salt; ¾ cup grated American cheese; 1 egg, well beaten; ½ cup milk; 1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Add cheese and mix well. Combine egg, milk, and melted shortening. Add to flour mixture, beating only enough to dampen all flour. Bake in greased 8x8x2-inch pan or greased ring mold in hot oven (425° F.) 25 minutes, or until done. Serve with creamed eggs or creamed vegetables. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Are you entitled to wear a "target" lapel button? You are if you are investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day. It's your badge of patriotism.

Your Next Dessert!

By Frances Lee Barton

WHAT to serve for dessert — that is the question. Far too often we answer it by preparing a cake, pie or pudding that has lost its allure by repetition.

Make your next dessert a NEW dessert — for your family or your guests. And search for other new recipes so that you may constantly surprise with something novel. This is a wise plan for any housewife to adopt.

Jellied Peach Cheese Ring

1 package cherry flavored gelatin; 1¾ cups hot water; 2 tablespoons sugar; 2 tablespoons cold water; 1¼ cups cut peaches; 1½ cups cottage cheese, finely sieved; dash of salt.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add sugar and cold water to peaches and let stand about 15 minutes. Measure 1 cup gelatin and add peach mixture. Chill until firm.

Chill remaining gelatin until slightly thickened. Place in bowl of ice and water and whip with rotary egg beater until fluffy and thick like whipped cream. Add cottage cheese and salt; mix well. Turn into ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Place jellied peaches by spoonfuls into center of mold. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

There never has been a time when love stories didn't make good reading. One of the most charming recent ones is Nevil Shute's novel, "Pastoral," which is a Book-of-the-Month Club selection for September.

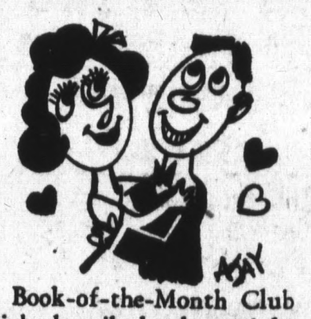

NEVIL SHUTE

This is the story of Peter Marshall, a twenty-two-year-old pilot in the R.A.F. Peter has come back safely from fifty-one bombing missions, without injury to himself, his crew or his plane, a record in this war. In between missions, he amuses himself by going fishing, by getting up early in the mornings looking for badger and fox, by taking bicycle rides. Such relaxing pastimes do a great deal to relieve the increasing tension of his nights. Then he meets a girl.

She is a W.A.A.F., known as Section Officer Robertson, though Peter finds out quickly that her first name is Gervase. Her job is to sit at the controls while the planes are out, and check them off as they report "mission completed" and return to base—or do not return, as sometimes happen.

Peter first met her when he came back from a fishing excursion with a fine thirty-three-inch pike, the largest he had ever caught. He was very proud and went searching for someone to admire it with him. But all his friends were busy or disinterested, and when Gervase looked up she saw him standing like a little boy disappointed because nobody would play with him. She got up from her chair.

"I'll come and see your fish," she said, "if I may. Where did you say it was?" That may seem a strange reason to fall in love with a girl, but that is what happened.

* * *

Nevil Shute is the author of one other Book-of-the-Month Club selection, "Ordeal," published in 1939, which described what might happen in case an English coastal town was ever bombed—an eventuality that was still considered in the realm of fantasy by most of us. His other novels include "Kindling," "Landfall" and "Pied Piper," —this latter was very popular here and was also produced as a motion picture.

* * *

Besides being a writer, Shute is an expert aviation engineer. In 1931 he started an airplane factory which first saw the light of day in an old garage in Southsea. When he resigned in 1938, the firm was employing a thousand people. At the time of Dunkirk, he joined the Navy, after deciding that he was too old to fly on operations and considering that the time for experiments was over. The Admiralty did not agree with him, and two days later he was put on to experimental work for the Royal Navy and has been there ever since. He is now a Lieutenant Commander.

Cookies to "go out" or to eat at home

SOME EASY-TO-BAKE cookies have a fine double purpose: They "carry well" in lunch boxes, and they're mighty tasty when they are served at home. And there's nothing complicated about baking them. For example:

HONEY ROCKS

- 4 cups enriched flour
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- ½ tsp. soda
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 cup shortening
- 1½ cups strained honey
- 3 eggs
- ½ tsp. grated lemon rind
- 1 cup finely chopped walnut meats
- 1 cup seedless raisins

Sift flour and measure; sift again with baking powder, soda, salt, and cinnamon. Cream shortening; add honey gradually, beating to combine. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Gradually add flour mixture, stirring until smooth. Add remaining ingredients. Drop by teaspoonfuls on well greased cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 15 minutes, or until slightly browned. Remove at once to rack to cool. Makes about 66 2-inch cookies.

What's Cooking From Your Vegetable Garden?

DO you have a victory garden? Then you know the superior flavor of garden-fresh peas, corn, greens, carrots, beans and other vegetables. Science tells us "just-picked" vegetables have all their vitamin content. Vegetables that stand may lose some of this food value.

You grew them. But how do you serve them? There's an art to growing vegetables and an art to cooking them.

Rules for Cooking Vegetables

Here are some rules that will help preserve color, form, flavor, vitamin and mineral content in cooking and serving vegetables. But first, remember to serve salads of uncooked vegetables frequently.

Pare very thin or not at all; prepare just before cooking or serving; do not soak in water; cook quickly, if boiled or steamed; use as little water as possible; salt water slightly; do not use soda, it changes flavor; cook only until tender; do not overcook. Serve boiled or steamed vegetables with melted butter or margarine, cream sauce, cheese sauce or lemon juice.

Lemon Juice for Flavor

Lemon juice deserves special mention here. Easy to add — just cut halves or quarters and squeeze — it often makes all the difference when you are serving vegetables either uncooked in a salad with a lemon dressing or cooked with a lemon garnish.

Indeed a plate of lemon quarters may very well take its place on the table along with the salt and pepper shakers whenever vegetables are to be served. Experiment a bit. See what lemon juice does for different vegetables. This simple-to-add flavor will help to popularize these important foods with the members of your family and should be popular with you, too, since it is the quickest way to "dress" your vegetables.

Note, too, that the lemon juice adds vitamin C to uncooked salad vegetables and restores some of this vitamin to cooked vegetables, which may have had their vitamin C soaked out in the cooking water.

Lemon Buttered Vegetables

Meat points are often all gone. Why not serve a vegetable plate frequently, choosing some of the vegetables given below. Flavor these with the lemon butter for which recipe is given. With an egg or a serving of cheese, a bread and a beverage, you have a balanced dinner.

2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ cup melted butter or margarine

Blend and serve over any one of the following cooked vegetables: asparagus, lima beans, string beans, beets, carrots, celery, Brussels sprouts, broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, spinach and other greens, summer or winter squash. For new potatoes brown butter and add equal amounts of lemon juice and chopped parsley.

From a Ninth Air Force Service Command Unit, European theater of operations: "Your home-town newspaper may be in this mountain of cardboard-boxed candy, gum, and soap stacked in a warehouse supplying the Ninth Air Force Service Command in the European theater of operations. Without waste paper for the manufacture of cardboard boxes and containers—our enormous shipments of food and war matériel might have had to be curtailed. Even the casings protecting explosive shells on their overseas crossing are made out of your waste paper. So don't relax 1 second in home-front salvaging. Save that paper and be sure it's drafted for war service."

RATION DATE CALENDAR FOR HOUSEHOLDERS

GASOLINE

A-12 coupons each good for three gallons through September 21. B-3, C-3, B-4 and C-4 each good for 5 gallons.

TIRES

Periodic passenger tire inspections have been discontinued. Tire replacement inspections are required and tire inspection record must be retained for use with both tire and gasoline applications.

PROCESSED FOODS

Book Four: Blue stamps A8 through Z8 and A5 through L5, good indefinitely, for 10 points each.

Use of 1-point blue ration tokens, used in making change for processed foods ration stamps will be discontinued beginning October 1. Consumers are urged to dispose of their supply as rapidly as possible. OPA said that future food values will be arranged so that most items will have point values in multiples of 10. Seventeen foods will be removed from the blue stamps ration list after September 17.

MEATS FATS AND OILS

Book Four: Red stamps A-8 through Z-8 and A-5 through G-5, good indefinitely, for 10 points each.

SUGAR

Book Four: Sugar Stamps No. 30, 31 and 32 for five pounds valid indefinitely. Sugar Stamp 40 valid for five pounds for home canning through February 28, 1945. Extra sugar for canning 10 pounds for each period, up to a maximum of 20 pounds, may be obtained by application at your ration board.

Sugar Stamp No. 33 became valid, September 1, for 5 pounds.

SHOES

Airplane stamps No. 1 and 2 in Book Three valid indefinitely.

BUTTER

A ration value of 16 red points per pound for creamery butter was maintained when point values for September became effective, the Office of Price Administration has announced.

Because the point charts already have been printed, retail stores were notified by OPA that the present point value of 16 red points per pound is to be continued in September and that a slip of paper bearing the figure 16 should be pasted over the 20 figure on the point value charts opposite the words creamery butter.

FARMERS MEAT COMPANY

Meat is needed in your everyday diet - especially during these days of long and strenuous hours. Our fighting men and women are given generous allowances of meat to maintain their health and general condition.

Civilians need it too, and those troublesome points are necessary to insure an equal division of the supply. You can get the maximum food value from your rations if you use your points for FARMERS quality meats.

During the summer vacation period our market will remain closed Monday each week.
